The Neo-Gothic Parliament on the Pest side bank of the Danube is not only the symbol of the Hungarian capital but is at the same time, one of the largest buildings in the world that serves as a parliament. Built in 1885-1904, the Parliament boasts beautiful interior halls, staircases and the cupola, the height of which is 96 meters, referring to the founding of the Hungarian State in 896. In 2000, the Coronation Regalia were moved to the Parliament and are still exhibited here.*

Budapest's largest church, the St. Stephen's Basilica can hold up 8,500 people. It is dedicated to St. Stephen or István, the first Hungarian Christian King and was consecrated in 1905. King St. Stephen's right hand, the Holy Right is kept here, and it is paraded by the faithful on 20 August. It received the title of Basilica Minor in 1938, the 900th anniversary of St. Stephen's death.

The newly renovated three-level Central Market Hall is the largest of a network of market halls in Budapest. Its design was prepared in the planning office of Eiffel. There are more than 180 stores, displaying a huge variety of groceries, souvenir and folklore products, and of course the Hungaricums: salami, paprika, goose liver, sausages, Tokaj wine and apricot brandy. Here you can find anything you might want to take home from Hungary.

Transportation is by bus with an English and French speaking guide. Lunch is included.

*The Parliament reserves the right to cancel visits due to chamber meetings. Please make sure to have your passport with you!

Please note that the organisers reserve the right to modify the programme of the tours due to low enrolment.

PRICE: The excursion is optional and subject to EUR 100/person

An optional excursion to the Gödöllő Royal Palace with lunch will be arranged on Sunday.

The 250-year-old Palace, built by the Grassalkovich family, is one of the largest palaces in the country and is a significant work of Hungarian Baroque architecture.

The golden age of the building began in 1867 when the Palace was presented as a coronation gift to Emperor Francis Joseph I and Queen Elizabeth (also known as Sisi) for use as a residence. The royal family spent the spring and autumn hunting seasons here. The building has been restored to its former glory. The Palace was the venue of high-level meetings during the Hungarian EU presidency in 2011.

09:30            Departure from the Hungarian Academy of Sciences

10:30-12:20    Guided tour in the Royal Palace and the baroque theatre (with French and English speaking guide)

You become acquainted with the first century of the Palace and the first three generations of the Grassalkovich family, with insight into a Baroque church. The group visits the restored royal suites and the ceremonial hall, and learn the 20th century history of the Palace.

12:30-14:00    Lunch in the Erzsébet Királyné Restaurant

14:15            Departure to the Liszt Ferenc International Airport and to Budapest city centre

15:00            Arrival to Liszt Ferenc International Airport. After the airport drop the bus continues to Budapest city centre (approx. 45 minutes).

Minimum number of participants: 30 persons.

Please note that the organisers reserve the right to cancel (modify) the optional tour due to low enrolment.
